

Italian Federation of Sports Medicine

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have the pleasure to officially announce that the Italian Federation of Sports Medicine (FMSI) will organise in the city of Rome in 2012 the XXXII FIMS World Congress of Sports Medicine.

It is universally known that Rome is a place of great traditions, where sports and culture have gone hand in hand for some 3,000 years. It is said “Rome, caput mundi”, and indeed it is one of the world’s greatest cultural and spiritual centres. It is a modern capital, where past and present, sacred and profane, culture and leisure, harmoniously combine in a unique blend, that to many conveys the flavour of the sacredness, and yet the sweetness of life.

With regard to our Federation, the Italian Federation of Sports Medicine is known to be as one the first Associations of Sports Medicine borne in Europe. Next year it will celebrate its 80th year since its foundation (1929). From many years we are very active in the organisation of International Congresses and for having hosted many sports events, and we will be pleased to have this new opportunity to welcome our Colleagues from all around the world in our marvellous city.

All the information on the Congress will be available at the FMSI Web site: www.fmsi.it .

We look forward to welcoming you in Rome in 2012.

.....Arrivederci a Roma!
